Delivering Business Intelligence and Data Warehouse Solutions to Support On-demand Data Modeling, Analysis, and Reporting

CHALLENGE

Responding quickly to the constant stream of reporting requests can be challenging to manage for any organization. The ability to make informed decisions rapidly using accurate information is essential.

Zeevo professionals will equip your business team with a warehouse of data and a suite of business intelligence tools to deliver users' self-service modeling, analysis, and reporting capabilities via the web or desktop.

>>> APPROACH

- ▶ Develop a custom data warehouse solution to deliver on-demand data modeling and reporting analysis capabilities
- ▶ Determine and document your data, reporting, modeling, and analysis requirements
- ▶ Advise on the available business intelligence tools that best fit your business team's needs
- ▶ Deliver training and data model knowledge transfer, making sure you have the required knowledge and abilities to maintain the solutions

>>> OUTCOME

- ▶ A comprehensive data warehouse that integrates data from multiple different data sources is available on-demand to your team to perform the modeling and reporting analysis
- ▶ A suite of business intelligence tools available to consume the data and create the required modeling and report information on-demand
- ▶ Your business team has the information it needs to make decisions that increase revenue, reduce costs, improve productivity, and customer service

ZEEVO'S VALUE ADD

- ▶ In-depth knowledge of designing and implementing data warehouse and business intelligence solutions
- ▶ Provide guidance and insights to design and implement a repeatable training program for the delivered business intelligence solution
